NEW MEETING SET

Unification Plan Voted Down, 8-5

By RON BATES

The cast is the same but the program will be different when the San Mateo County Committee on School Reorganization meets next week on unification in the North County.

A split among members of the county committee and a solid front mounted by four elementary school districts Thursday night killed a plan for unification that had been discussed for almost two years.

Now the augmented committee will start all over again Thursday, May 21, at the Westmoor Library at 8 p.m. and weigh the merits of a different proposal.

Thursday, the county comittee, augmented by the elementary school boards of Jefferson, Laguna Salada, Bayshore and Brisbane and the Jefferson High School Board, voted 8-5 against the plan to unify within the boundaries of the high school district.

The vote reversed a preliminary 11-4 decision made earlier in the year.

In a non-augmented committee meeeting immediately afterward, members voted 5-3 to begin study of a plan urged by Laguna Salada, Brisbane and Jefferson Elementary that would split the high school unit into two unified districts.

One district would be composed of Brisbane, Bayshore and Jefferson and the northern half of the present Jefferson High School district. The other would be composed of Laguna Salada and the southern half of the high school district.

A plan to include the South San Francisco School District in the new study was rejected.

High School District Chairman Elio Fontana sharply criticized the committee for its decision to study the elementary boards' plan to split his district.

"You have had the same information for the past two years," Fontana said. "Why, all of a sudden, have you changed your mind?

He said the committee since its formation in January, 1962,

Pacifica Trio Orphaned by Plane Crash

Three Pacifica children were orphaned in the crash of a Pacific Air Lines plane in the East Bay last week.

The children are David, 6, Michael, 4, and Susan Gault, 2.

Their parents, Robert L. Gault, 27, and Mrs. Gault, 25, of 851 Arguello Boulevard, Pacifica, died returning from a wedding anniversary trip to Reno. Gault worked at Hunters' Point Naval Shipyard.

The Pacifica children brought to six the number of San Mateo County children known to have been orphaned by the crash. The widowed pilot left three teen-age daughters.

Eight Peninsulans — six of them county residents — were among the 44 persons who died

Pay Cutback For Teachers' Plan Rapped

JESD Proposal Based on Poor Ratings

By PHYLLIS CLEMENTS

A policy amendment that would cut back the salary of a teacher evaluated as unsatisfactory for two consecutive years was opposed by the Jefferson Classroom Teachers Association when the amendment was considered by the Jefferson Elementary School District Board of Trustees Monday night.

The board tabled the proposal to a meeting May 25.

The amendment was proposed at a board meeting last week by Trustee O. Wayne Douglas, who asked that it be considered by trustees, the administration and the teachers before it was voted upon.

Douglas indicated at that time that he felt the amendment was a logical extension of a policy adopted two years ago that states that a teacher rated as unsatisfactory "shall not advance on the salary schedule... for the forthcoming school year."

The amendment further provides that after two consecutive unsatisfactory ratings, the teacher shall regress on the salary schedule and continue to regress, without limitation, "for each consecutive year . . . during which an unsatisfactory rating is received."

Douglas initiated discussion on the proposal by asking Supt.

Miss D.C. Preliminary Set May 22

A bevy of 15 beauties will be vying for five finalist positions in the Miss Daly City preliminaries to be held at the Westmoor Little Theater May 22.

Tickets for the beauty pageant finals June 10 at the South San Francisco Elks Club on Hillside Boulevard are available at the Chamber of Commerce office at 6454 Mission Street or at the office of The Post at 30 Park Plaza Drive.

Approval of Subdivision To Be Asked

Approval of Park Pacifica, a new Oddstad Homes subdivision, will be asked tonight at the Pacifica City Council meeting. The Planning Commission has approved plans for the development of 250 homes, east and south of Terra Nova High School.

The council will also hold a public hearing, continued from March 25, on the application of the Church of Latter Day Saints to rezone to R-2 a two-acre parcel south of Pacifica Gardens and north of Linda Mar School for the construction of multi-residential dwellings. The Planning Commission has turned down the application.

Hoffman to Remain Open For Traffic

Commission Is Overruled by D.C. Board

The Daly City Council acted contrary to the recommendation of the city engineer and planning commission Monday night and voted to keep a narrow street in the southeastern section of the city open.

A large delegation from the Hillside Homeowners' Improvement Club appeared at the council meeting to emphasize the organization's opposition to closing Hoffman Street.

The closing had been suggested by City Engineer William Chapman in connection with a huge apartment development proposed for the area by builder Gus Pedemonte.

Chapman said the City of Colma has abandoned its half of the street, which serves as the boundary line between the two communities.

He said the street was not meant to have traffic because of its narrowness and he wanted to close it off.

"In some cases, the street front comes to within four or five feet of the home," he noted.

In a letter to the council, club president Anthony Aiello said the homeowners' group was against the closure because it felt there would be inadequate access to the Callan Heights and Sherman Heights subdivisions.

He also said there was insuf-

ATTORNEY'S MOVE FAILS

Special Meet Set On Coaches' Pay

The board of trustees of the Jefferson Union High School District Monday night called a special meeting next week to consider the request of coaches for extra pay for after school duties.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Monday in the Little Theater of Westmoor High School.

A decision to hold the session came during a turbulent meeting Monday attended by a standing room only crowd of coaches and district residents.

A petition bearing 400 names was presented to the trustees in support of the coaches' bid. Another petition with 200 names had previously been submitted.

Trustees listened and answered questions for more than two hours before finally voting to call the special meting.

The coaches' extra pay proposal had been tabled at a previous meeting of the board.

Board member James Cooper made a motion to untable the issue, and Mrs. Ann Eason seconded it. However, the provision was that it wouldn't be acted upon or a recommendation made until more time had been spent studying the budget.

Earlier, a dramatic move by the coaches' association of the Jefferson High District failed. E. F. DeVilbiss, a San Jose attorney retained by the coaches, tried unsuccessfully to force the hand of the individual board members.

The firey attorney lashed out at Board President Elio Fontana with questions and threatened to have the situation resolved by the courts if the board refused to commit itself on the issue.

He divulged that in a private conversation with Supt. Edward Morgan that Morgan told him all five board members were opposed to the demand.

The coaches are patterning their extra pay demand after the one which the San Francisco coaches received. They are asking for an hourly rate, which is the same basic rate of pay which driver education and night school teachers receive.

Joe McGrath, spokesman for the coaches, said that currently the head coaches of all major sports are asking for 110 hours extra pay at $5 per hour which would result in $550 per season.

The total cost to the district for the fiscal year would be $29,670. The district includes Jefferson, Westmoor, Terra Nova and Oceana High schools.

Morgan Urges New Study of School Plans

By LOUANNE HEATH

A good, hard look at Crocker and Serramonte building sites and the fate of the proposed addition to Oceana High School was urged by Supt. Edward D. Morgan at a meeting of the Jefferson Union High School District's Board of Trustees Monday night.

According to Morgan, two serious problems have arisen that may necessitate drastic revision of building plans.

Both developments are so far reaching in their ramifications that further sudy of them must be undertaken now, Morgan declared.

Speaking of the proposed Crocker tract site, which the board has been considering as the most likely location for the district's fifth high school, Morgan said:

"Unbeknownst to us, the area, immediately surrounding the site we have been considering has been zoned for heavy industry and I am sure that none of us wish to build a school in an area where there is a high concentration of industry. Before we continue, I feel we must study this area more completely."

Board members voted to allow Morgan and representatives

Planners in S.S.F. Okay Apartments

The South San Francisco Planning Commission has approved construction of a subdivision at the base of San Bruno Mountain.

The 11-acre area is zoned R-3, permitting construction of multiple-family units. Construction of apartment units on the land would involve carving the development out of the steep slopes of the mountain, according to Hillsborough developer Gus Pedemonte.

The subdivision map presented to the planning commissioners is for a land parcel located north of the intersection of Linden Street and hillside Boulevard.

In another move, the planners approved a request for a use permit for expansion of facilities of a Standard Oil Company service station at 401 Airport Boulevard.

FREEWAY HELD UP

Chinese Stand Fast

An ancient Chinese belief that only criminals and convicts should be taken through the back road of a cemetery to be buried is holding up construction of a major Daly City freeway.

The problem arose recently when the State Division of Highwwawys decided to mov ahead on construction of the Junipero Serra Freeway at the same time the developers of Serramonte were grading the western slope of the new development.

If work had continued, the Chinese Cemetery would have been left without an access road to the front of the cemetery.

Francis Yee, a Chinatown businessman, said last week:

"We Chinese never believe in a back road to a cemetery. Our deceased would never enter that way. This is our rligion."

He explained that because of this belief, the cemetery association spent between $30,000 and $40,000 to build an elaborate gate on the front road to "show respect."

E. V. Schulhauser, vice president of Suburban Realty developers of Serramonte, said he was sure a satisfactory solution could be worked out.

He said his firm is willing to build an all-weather road and maintain it until the old road goes back into service.

The road would cut over wooded areas of the cemetery and wind around to the front gate.

A final decision is being held up because of a legal technicality. Harry Christen, former owner of the Christen Dairy lands that comprise the Serramonte development, must sign some papers before Suburban Realty can move on the project.

Unity Plan Is Defeated By 8-5 Vote

has had a "fantastic amount" of figures to study and up to the past two meetings was "very concerned" about finances and Laguna Salada's inability to support a unified district on its own.

Both Fontana and past board chairman James Cooper said the whole matter should be turned over to the state board of education.

Earlier, Robert Hale of the Laguna Salada School District said his board feels that a Laguna unified district could be supported.

Quoting a letter from some teachers, he said:

"Nowhere has it been proven that the unification plan presented would be more beneficial to the teachers."

He said the teachers were fearful of losing teaching freedom, of being shifted to schools away from their homes and of becoming relatively forgotten in too big a district.

Hale also pointed out it would be hard to sell such proposals as bond issues to the people if the county committee's plan were approved.

Allen Rigler of the Brisbane district supported Hale's points and said Laguna Salada has indicated it would raise taxes to support a unified district on its own.

County committee chairman Paul Bradley, speaking during the committee meeeting later, said he was disappointed the committee did not want to go back and include South San Francisco in the study.

"It has not been given the full consideration it should have been given," he said.

The committee must submit a master plan for the county by September. Only the North County study remains to be completed.

LAWSUIT SEEN

Pacifica Seeks Outfall Solution

Pacifica city councilmen delved more deeply last week into what happened to their million-dollar sewer system which failed in less than two years after it was completed.

Councilmen held their first meeting with Edgar A. Griswold, special consulting engineer retained by the city to investigate the problem.

Griswold indicated two major planning deficiencies in the Sharp Park outfall sewer line caused it to break.

He said it should have been more flexible and probably should have been extended further out into the ocean to get past a sandbar that is constantly moving in the surging surf.

Although the Sharp Park area is one of the most turbulent areas on the California coast, Griswold said other outfall lines approved by the same consulting engineer, Fred D. Bowlus, have stood up for years. He added he had difficulty in skin-diving to examine the line because of the underwater turbulence.

Griswold said he first considered using a rubber hose similar to those used by oil companies in off-shore operations to remedy the lack of flexibility but then decided such a line would not stand up a sufficient length of time.

That a law suit probably will be filed by the city was indicated when City Attorney Conrad Reisch announced he is now compiling a list of locations where other outfall lines have been placed in equally rough surf and have not failed.

"It is quite a problem getting an outfall line through the surf," Griswold declared. He said you need flexibility because "you must work with the ocean instead of fighting against it. You can't fight nature. It's a losing battle."

Griswold said he recommended a "ball type" of joint on the line to increase flexibility.

"I do feel the contractor's neck is out some distance," Griswold admitted.

Griswold said he had worked on other lines designed by Bowlus where outfall lines were placed at deeper depths and no problems occurred.

"This is quite a problem," Griswold declared. "If he had built it to a lower grade you wouldn't have had this problem."

Much of the dificulty," Griswold reported, was the constant shifting of a sandbar and sand undermining of the line.

Special Meet Scheduled on Coaches' Pay

"Coaches put in 300 hours or more a year after their regular assignment has been completed," McGrath said. "We believe in the principle of extra pay for extra time, and here is the place to start."

One of the main obstacles in the boards' action on the matter is the ramifications involved, among which is that other teachers in other fields are also entitled to extra compensation.

"I know the coaches do a good job and spend extra hours, but so do the English teachers, arithmetic teachers and music teachers," said Fontana, a former Jefferson High School star athlete.

"But we have to get more identification on the problem and get the true picture of the financial involvement," Fontana added.

Dr. Jerry Miles of the board concurred and said that the board cannot commit the district to obligations it cannot pay.

The American Federation of Teachers and the Jefferson District Federation, represented by Jim Ballard, has also made similar demands for extra pay for other fields in education.

DALY CITY'S own Al Borelli and his orchestra will provide music for the annual Firemen's Ball, sponsored by the Daly City Widows' and Orphans' Association, Saturday evening, May 23, in the War Memorial Community Center. Tickets at $1 each are available at all city fire stations and will be sold at the door of the dance.

Pay Cutbacks For Teachers' Plan Rapped

Richard Foster "to review the process of evaluation."

Foster indicated that there are five possible steps in an evaluation. First responsibility is with the school principal who in conference with a teacher presents an evaluation that will be transmitted to the district office.

The assistant superintendent then "concurs, adds to or subtracts from the evaluation," Foster said. He added:

"It is my responsibility to make the final evaluation."

He then indicated that where a teacher has experienced difficulty, the professional growth committee of the teachers association may offer assistance to the teacher.

And then he noted:

"I remind the teacher of his right of review either in public session or closed personal meetings before the board of trustees."

Opposition to the amendment revolved around the issues of teacher morale, discriminatory use of the policy and children being taught by a "demoted teacher."

Larry Anderson, vice president of the teachers association, declared:

"If a teacher does not improve, he should be released from service rather than have his salary reduced."

At this point, board chairman Thomas Noonan asked Anderson:

"What if a teacher stands on tenure?" and pursued this line of argument by asking Supt. Foster:

"What is the record of teacher tenure being broken in California?" to which Foster replied "Almost none."

Noonan indicated that while he favored the teacher tenure law, he felt that until such time as it was more feasible to deal with an unsatisfactory tenure teacher the board needed "second best steps," such as the proposed amendment might provide.

In defense of the amendment, Douglas said:

"What we have tried to do is to encourage individual teachers, on the basis of in-training, and college courses . . . to assist the person over any particular problems he or she has. It is only triggered in a rare instance."

Morgan Asks New Study on School Plans

of the various elementary school districts to met with Architect Mario Campi to appraise the situation in light of school plans prepared by Campi and his firm.

In connection with the Serramonte site and the addition to Oceana High School, Morgan pointed out that school sites and district growth projections were based upon the 1960 Stanford Survey, which did not take into consideration the possibility of a split in the district as a result of unification.

"If Laguna Salada district unifies, the area picture changes. Locations and populations have been predicted on the existing district and the needs of this district will change drastically if the district itself is altered," Morgan said.

Pacifica Boy Shoots Self In Accident

A 9-year-old boy, playing with his father's hunting rifle, shot himself fatally through the chest in his Pacifica home last week.

Pronounced dead on arrival at Peninsula Hospital after police who rushed him to the Milagra Medical Center in a patrol car were unable to find a doctor, was Steven Sorce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nunzio Sorce, 203 Lauren Avenue in the Vallemar area.

According to officers, the lad's mother, Joyce, had left earlier for a San Francisco physician's office with a younger son, 5, who was suffering with a 104-degree fever, and an infant.

Officers said the boy may have been playing with the rifle when the trigger caught in a bedspread and discharged the weapon. The bullet entered the boy's chest, passed completely through his body and shattered the mirror.

Police Chief Neil Tremaine carried the boy from the home in his arms and rushed him to the medical center although officers could find no pulse.

Although the mother was nearly hysterical, she accompanied her son all the way to the hospital while a neighbor took care of the other two children.

Police said a check of neighbors disclosed no one heard a shot and that all the neighborhood children were accounted for at the time.

ficient information about Pedemonte's intentions.

"There is nothing concrete on the number of families, type of building or conditions of traffic that could result," he wrote.

Aiello said the closing would create a greater nuisance value because "a dead street appeals to garbage dumpers, parking of old jalopies and midnight lovers."

Councilman Francis Pacelli went along with the the homeowners, saying:

"The street has been utilized that way for the past 50 years. Let's leave it alone and let the developer change his plans and work around it."

In other business, the council tabled two requests for water from property owners on San Pedro Road in Colma.

when the Fairchild airliner crashed and exploded at 6:50 a.m. Thursday in the rolling hills east of Danville.

The Gault children were being cared for at home by a baby sitter when the tragic news came.

A sister-in-law of 444 Rio Verde Street, Daly City, took them to her home.

She said later that the three tots will likely be taken to live with a sister of Mrs. Gault who lives in Mill Valley.

Mrs. Gault's father, Arthur Arsenault, lives at 309 Alta Loma Drive in South San Francisco. A brother, Harold, lives in Maine.

INTERVIEW WITH A NEW COUNCILWOMAN

Grace McCarthy's Hopes for Pacifica

By PHYLLIS CLEMENTS

". . . AND THE HOUSES look like boxes, and they're all made out of ticky-tack, and they all look just the same" is one kind of inspiration for song-writers that Grace McCarthy, Pacifica mayor pro tempore and first-year city councilwoman, will strive to eliminate in future planning and development.

Mrs. McCarthy polled the second highest number of votes in Pacifica's seven-year history when she was elected to the City Council last month.

In an interview summing up her philosophies and hopes for Pacifica's future, she strongly advocated planning for recreational space and planning for space — in general—so that new houses won't, as she put it, sit absolutely adjacent to each other.

"We are at a point in community development," she noted, "where our whole future—the way the community will go—particularly with the southeast study — depends on a philosophy of development."

While she praised the individual character that many people have given to their subdivision homes, she said:

"The council has a big responsibility in helping the over-all plan." She mentioned council efforts in Fairmont to secure green belts o space in the development where lots are small.

Mrs. McCarthy believes that Pacifica is not alone at this point of planning for the future and noted that much of San Mateo County faces similar decisions.

Mrs. McCarthy is interested in preserving such commercial recreational areas as Saddletown, where 114 horses are boarded, because the need for this type of facility becomes greater even as space for them diminishes.

She cited the Holland Stables in Colma, recently destroyed by a fire, as a case in point.

LONG EXPERIENCE on the Park, Beach and Recreation Commission — she was one of seven original appointees — provides Mrs. McCarthy with an unique background to pursue her efforts in this regard on the council.

Asked about the problems of teen-agers in the suburban community, she said:

"I have two of my own," a statement she quickly amended with laughter by noting that a senior at Stanford, son John, is hardly any longer in this category. She also has a daughter, Patricia, a junior at Oceana High School.

And then, having mentioned the young people, she noted the most recent honors they have won:

John, a merit scholar, has been awarded a graduate fellowship in history at Yale for the coming year, and Patricia will spend six weeks at Humboldt State College this summer studying oceanography and mathematics on a National Science Foundation award.

Returning to problems in Pacifica for teen-agers, Mrs. McCarthy noted that transportation was a most serious handicap.

One remedy to this dilemma will be effected by a path which will run the length of the freeway through Pacifica. In Mrs. McCarthy's words:

"I love to walk. And yet I was forced to drive even for very short distances. Now people on bikes and on foot—teen-agers particularly — can use the path."

Interestingly enough, securing the path was not particularly difficult, she noted. Someone had to want it and ask for it.

ASKED TO COMMENT on a problem facing communities all over the country, racial integration, she replied:

"I feel that a most intelligent attitude has been taken. The Northcoast Community council has held three meetings to discuss the problems involved before they became local, emotional issues."

She places great stress on solutions to problems through calm, rational discussion.

Contrasting problems with the growth of the community in another way, Mrs. McCarthy said:

"Without wanting to sound stuffy, I am very delighted with the growth of so many local cultural programs. We have the little theater group, an art group, an excellent community chorus — which now performs Handel's "Messiah" annually — and a small writer's group."

One is not surprised to hear of these kinds of effort, for Grace McCarthy, as representative of her community, seems to embody the worthwhile endeavors of people in an utterly charming way.

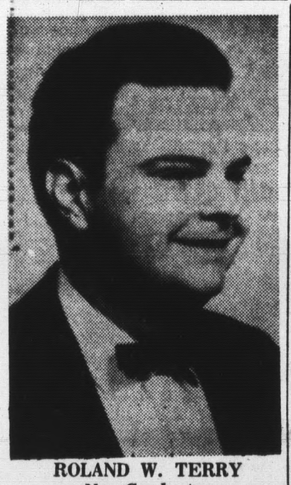
2-MAN NIGHT PATROLS

Broadmoor Adds Three Patrolmen

The Broadmoor Police Department has added three new men since the fatal shooting of Patrolman Charles E. Manning January 6.

One of the officers replaced Manning, while the others were added so that Broadmoor could man its night patrol cars with two officers instead of one.



ROLAND W. TERRY
New Conductor

The new men bring the number of full-time officers on the force to eight.

This includes Chief Ray Savage, a policewoman who serves as a clerk and six other officers.

The new men are William Shaffer, 28, of 803 Ellis Drive, Charles Fleischer, 34, of 851 Beechwood Drive and Jack Gerhardt, 30, of 1840 Louvaine Drive, all of Broadmoor.

All three were formerly reserve officers for the department.

Shaffer was an assistant buyer for the H. G. Makelin Company of San Francisco. Fleischer was a Pacific Gas & Electric Company lineman and Gerhardt was a mechanic for United Airlines.

Savage said that all patrol cars operating after dark now carry two men.

The decision to institute two-man night patrols was taken after the shooting of Manning while he was investigating a break-in late in the evening. He was on duty alone.

Timothy E. Silva, a 19-year-old former Fresno College student who was charged with the shooting, has been declared insane by the courts and committed to the state hospital for the criminally insane at Atascadero.

Savage said that if Silva is subsequently declared sane, he will be returned to Broadmoor authorities to face a murder charge.

The Burglars Were Choosy

Choosy thieves broke into the Muffler Mart at 1971 Junipero Serra Boulevard in Daly City and stole mufflers for four makes of cars only, equipment for installing the mufflers and a quantity of cash, police reported last week.

Al Jestadt of 55 Castillejo Drive, Daly City, owner of the business, estimated his loss at $2,500.

Investigators said the thieves smashed a window leading into a rest room to get into the one-story building.

They added that the burglars apparently used a truck to cart away their loot.

S.S.F. Council Delays Move

South San Francisco's expected approval of a special assessment district for the Cabot, Cabot & Forbes industrial park did not come last night.

A special meeting of the city council had been called with the industrial complex as its major item, but the many necessary details were held over.

The assessment district's attorneys, Wilson, Harzfeld, Jones & Morton, asked for the continuance because they had not yet obtained consent from each of the property owners for formation of the district. Only one owner had not replied, they indicated.

Before the council are several actions, including a petition for acquisition and construction of improvements, affidavits of title a formal statement of value, and a proposal for bond purchase by the firm of Stone & Youngberg.

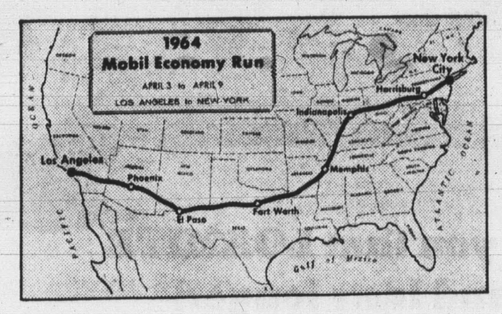
Band Concert Set Saturday

City of Daly City's Municipal Band will make its initial concert appearance of the year Saturday (May 16) at 1 p.m. in Westlake Shopping Center.

The band is now under the direction of newly installed conductor Roland W. Terry. Terry has replaced former conductor George Brenner who recently retired.

Selections from Gypsy, Sound of Music, Gigi, Victory at Sea, TV Suite and Blues in the Band are included in Terry's programming.

There will be no admission charge for the concert. Site will be "on the mall."



We drove 3,243 miles to make a point about our Super Turbine transmission

You can do it on the way to the grocery store

Would we drive a Buick with a Super Turbine transmission* all the way from Pasadena to New York City just to win Class C in the Mobil Economy Run?

Of course. And just in case anyone failed to get the message, we did it twice again. And won Class D and Class G. In all, Buick entered 4 classes, and won 3—more than any other make of car. (Remember when people used to think Buicks used a lot of gas?) Did we make our point about the Super Turbine transmission? You bet.

Obviously you aren't planning to drive 3,243 miles to prove your new Buick is economical. And you can't expect to get as many miles per gallon as the experts in the Economy Run. Still, it is nice to know you can win the economy run around town. And the good looks prize at the same time. See your Buick dealer about it. No doubt he'll think of a number of other reasons to drive a Buick.

Why baseball is the greatest game ever devised: Like no other game, there is no time limit; truly, a team is never out of the game until the last out.

It favors neither the large nor small man, which is not completely true in any other sport.

Players must have more versatile athletic skills (this is what you call alienating football and basketball men) than for any other sport.

It is physically less tiring and damaging than any other sport and players therefore (a) last longer, therefore, (2) make more money at the game during their careers.

Over-all, baseball hands out the largest salaries, the biggest bonuses, gets the best TV deals and therefore offers the greatest fringe benefits.

There is no draft; athletes may sign with whom they wish.

The "high noon" head-and-head duel between pitcher and hitter offers the greatest moments of drama in sports — with the possible exception of bull fighting.

BASEBALL is at once a team and individual sport; Willie Mays relies solely on his own individual skills to win at bat, on the bases and in the field, not having to depend on a lineman's key block or a feeder's sharp pass.

But without teamwork — pitcher-catcher, short-stop-second baseman, hit and runs, bunts, etc. — no team in baseball can win consistently.

Its relatively frequent delays, often berated by critics, actually enhance the game — allowing time for fan analysis and the building of suspense.

It has added more to our language than any other sport (people substituting for each other "pinch hit;" football players throw the long pass, basketball players cast off a long one, golfers try the long blast rather than the safe approach; whenever anything spectacular is about to happen, it's called going for the "home-run;" people fail and "strike out;" they "take two and hit to right," when being conservative, etc.).

Baseball has more history, statistics, color, heritage, humor, anecdotes, folklore, legends, lies, heroes, villains, characters and provides more good conversation than any other sport.

Baseball is more uniquely representative of America than any other sport.

And baseball — not basketball or pro football or bowling or indoor horseshoes—is, indeed, historically, statistically and emotionally, America's favorite pastime.

IF THAT notorious 50-mile hike did anything else besides stimulate Dr. School's business and reveal Pierre Salinger as plucky but not stupid, what it did, it seemed to us as we browsed through the toy department of a local department store, recently, was drive more potential athletes indoors.

What we saw was not only the usual electric games (we used to throw hunks of cardboard labeled "strike," "ball," "out," etc., into an old cowboy hat and draw them out), but also new indoor games such as horse-shows, volleyball and badminton, all of which, it seems to us, were developed after the 50 mile hike.

Now there is a national physical fitness program for you!

Kids are out playing touch-tag, and all of a sudden, one yells, "Hey, fellas, let's go in and play a game of horseshoes and munch yogurt while we do it."

Next thing, they'll be coming out with indoor "One Foot Off the Gutter" (complete with aluminum gutter) and "Kick the Can" (complete with cushioned-can and shoes with square toes) games.

Or even indoor kites, which wouldn't fly too high. Oh, maybe you'd have to saw a hole in the attic, or something, but as long as they didn't get involved with any fresh air. . . .

TERRA NOVA'S athletic teams may not always win their share of games, but when they do, they're hard to forget.

Example:

Terra Nova's track team needed thirds in the mile and two-mile events at South San Francisco last week, but their depth in this department extended to a couple of weight men, Ed Hart and Gerry Olson, neither of whom had ever officially run before.

Coach Dennis Lanterman, noting that he had seen them run several yards recently at least without drawing deep breaths, entered them.

Both Olson and Hart ran their thirds in the mile and two mile runs, respectively, each picking up a point as the Tigers went on to take the meet by four points — the margin of victory provided by the weight men.

Example:

Terra Nova's frosh-soph baseball team was down in early innings, 6-2, against South City. They pecked away, and brought only a 7-5 deficit into the last inning. With two outs and a runner on first, outfielder Mike Kenny slashed a homer, throwing the game into extra innings.

In the eighth, the Warriors loaded the bags with none out, but didn't score, as an attempted squeeze failed and two other batters popped up.

With two outs, nobody on in its half of the eighth, the Tigers scored, won, 8-7.

Poor South City.

Warriors Beat Jeff, Near Title

Rams Down T.N., Colts Top Oceana

By CRAIG BECKHEYER

Coach Bob Brian's South San Francisco High School baseballers, sitting firmly atop the North Peninsula League standings with a 5-1 mark, travel to El Camino this afternoon for a ball game that could virtually wrap up the 1964 league title.

Brian's Warriors exploded for seven runs in two innings Friday in Orange Park to defeat Jefferson, 7-2, and knock the Tribe almost out of contention. If the South S.F. nine can re-one-place Colts Today, there should be no stopping them.

Friday's game was a must-win for the Jeffs. In second place, a game behind the Warriors before the contest, the Indians are now down to third, two games behind with none left against the league leaders.

El Camino winners Friday over Oceana, are in the same boat now. One game behind, they must win today or they too will fall two lengths behind with only three games left and none with South City.

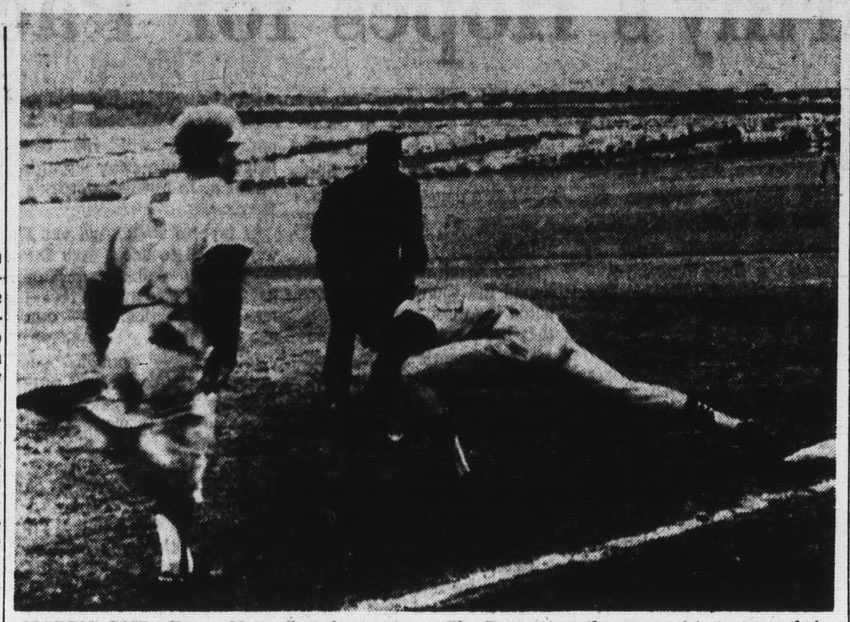
Jefferson jumped to a 2-0 lead against the Warriors when Tony Solita and Mike Gutierrez drove in first-inning runs against Chuck Olivera.

South City came right back, however, when Jeff Jones poked a 360-foot, two-run homer in the second and the league leaders got a two-run single from Olivera in the third to spark a two-inning, seven-run outburst that wrapped it up.

Westmoor continued to move up the NPL ladder with a 4-1 victory over Terra Nova.

The Rams wasted no time in reversing their first-round loss to the Tigers when they combined Ed Perry's triple with singles by Bruce Hix and Bob Hansen into a three-run first inning.

Hix, who went into the game with a .799 batting average went one for two and saw his average "drop" to .667.



MARTY COIL, Terra Nova first baseman, makes the big stretch on an infield throw as Westmoor's Bruce Hix races for the bag. The Rams won the game, 4-1, to even their season record at 3-3.

Rams Capture NPL Track Crown

Varsity Final Is Dominated By Westmoor

By CRAIG BECKHEYER

Westmoor High School's varsity track and field team, an aggregation that needs assistance like it needs a third leg, saw the rest of the league virtually concede them the NPL title Friday afternoon at El Camnio, and as a result, scored a whopping 100 points en route to the North Peninsula championship.

Winning eight blue ribbons and getting double wins from oy Pinelli and Larry Pettit, the Rams dominated the varsity finals from start to finish as several key performers from other schools dropped to the class B meet where their schools had a better chance at the championship.

As it turned out, however, Jefferson, favorites in the B's, won that division handily while Westmoor took the C title with comparative ease when South San Francisco failed to show as strongly as expected.

Westmoor thus ended the season with perfect marks (five dual meet victories and the finals win) in the varsity and class C divisions while Jefferson had a clean slate in the B's.

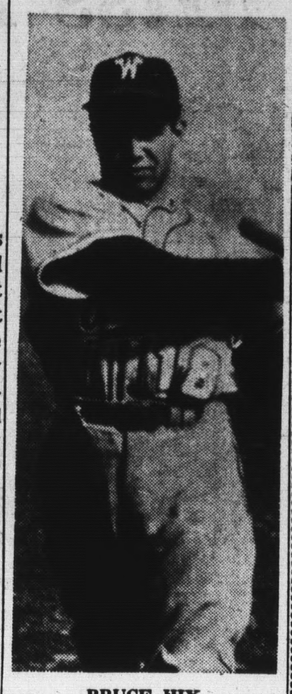
The closest race of the day was in the C meet where a battle royal was expected between Westmoor and South S. F. South S. F. had lost only to Westmoor in the dual meet season and that by less than nine points.

But despite the fact that Westmoor's dope sheet had them winning by a scant one point, the junior Rams came through in fine style to score heavily in events they didnt figure in to win, 70½-58½, over the Warrior lightweights.

Jefferson sported one double winner in their class B triumph and kept alive their long time domination of North Peninsula track and field. Jessy Bulatae swept the hurdles, while Russ Rudamentkin won the 330 and placed second in the 150 to lead the Tribe to their expected triumph.

It was a day of almost unequaled assault on league records as 21 marks fell by the wayside. This is primarily because this is only the second year of the young league's track and field finals. Last year the meet was nearly called off due to rain and was finally run in a drizzle that kept the initial league marks relatively poor.

The class C meet saw two double winners, and fittingly, they were from the two strongest schools, South S. F. and Westmoor. Warrior Dave Rowland won the 150 and 75 while Larry Rodriques of the Rams took first in the shot put and broad jump.



BRUCE HIX
Leads Hitters

Hix' .700 Leads NPL Hit Parade

Westmoor slugger Bruce Hix led the hit parade in North Peninsula League statistics at the halfway mark with a blistering .700 average. He has hit seven times in 10 times at bat.

Hix was edged out of the batting title last year despite a average by South San Francisting title last year despite a average by South San Francisco's Neil McNevin.

El Camino's Mike Tyler was Hix's closest competitor with 10 hits and 18 at bats for a .556 average.

In team hitting, second place El Camino's bats have boomed the loudest. Coach Harry Pitkoff's Colts have blasted 45 hits in 139 at bats for a team average of .324. Jefferson follows with 35 hits in 131 at bats for a .267 average.

South San Francisco's Chuck Olivera, who was the league's winningest pitcher last year, seems to be en route to a similar distinction this season.

Jones is leading in strikeouts with 32 in 21 innings. He is followed by Avelar with 25 strikeouts in 24.3 innings.

Krohn Signs With Dodgers

Former Westomor High School baseball star Barry Krohn was signed to a Los Angeles Dodger contract last week. Terms of the contract were not announced.

Krohn was a pitcher-outfielder for College of San Mateo this season, where he hit .294 in Golden Gate Conference competition and .344 for the season. He had a .309 two-year average at CSM.

As a pitcher, Krohn had a 1-4 record, dropping four close decisions. He did not play last year, but in 1962 posted a 9-2 win-loss record for CSM's Northern California Junior College runner-up team.

At Westmoor, the baseball star was accorded most valuable player honors as a junior in 1960 when he played for Coach Rod Losberger's championship team as a pitcher - outfielder. He made all-league for the three years he played at Westmoor.

In 1960, he hit .414 as a hitter. As a pitcher, he compiled a 5-1 record with a league ERA of 1.33. For the season, his record was 7-1 with an ERA of 1.01.

Losberger's team gained the title again in 1961 with Krohn as a prime factor. One of Krohn's teammates that year was Rich Morales, who signed last year with the White Sox.

Krohn was named all-league and repeated as most valuable player.

"In my nine years of teaching baseball, Barry was perhaps the most promising I have ever taught," Losberger said. "He was very serious and very coachable. He always gave more than 100 per cent as a competitor."

CSM Spikes Finish 13th

College of San Mateo's track team finished in a tie for thirteenth place in junior college competition at the West Coast Relays at Fresno over the weekend.

"We just couldn't put together any relay teams that could do anything,' Coach Berny Wanger commented after the meet. Relay meets counted double in the scoring.

Oakland won the team title with 29 points and thus became the second Golden Gate Conference team in succession to accomplish that feat.

In individual competition, Al Rockwell broke a CSM 1936 record when he ran a 14.3 flight in trials for the 120-yard high hurdles.

This page of pictures shows the girls in various stages of the program, conducted b h tPeacifica Chamber of Commerce and aided by volunteer workers.

The girls have been taught how to model, pose, style their hair and have been given tips on how to present an effective talent skit.

Miss Pacifica of 1964 will be chosen at a gala pageant Saturday, May 23, in Oceana High School. Festivities will begin at 8 p.m.

Each candidate will receive a trophy, her contest bathing suit, an engraved silver charm and two theatre tickets.

Co-chairmen Are Selected

Two South San Francisco residents have been named 27th assembly district co-chairmen for the senatorial campaign of Pierre Salinger.

They are Mrs. Ruth B. Burke and David J. Friedenberg.

Mrs. Burke is president of the South San Francisco Democratic Club. She was vice president of the 27th Assembly District Women's Club in 1962.

Friedenberg, an attorney with offices in Daly City, is a member of the County Democratic Central Committee and is on leave from his post as president of the Westborough Democratic Club.

He was sworn in early this month as a member of the State Board of Dry Cleaners.

Wide-Angle View of a Political Rally

A WIDE ANGLE lens was used by Post-Times Photographer Howard Frankhouse to capture this unusual view of a political rally at the new Greek Theatre on the campus of the College of San Mateo. Students are seen gathered in a circle around Democratic Senate hopeful Pierre Salinger, standing at a speaker's podium. Both Salinger and Alan Cranston, state controller and another leading Democratic candidate for the Senate, spoke in the North County recently on campaign tours. (Post-Times Photo)

Imperials Win Junior Teen Crown

Meet the champs—mplerials Junior Teen Club members.

The club won the perpetual trophy awarded by the Daly for the best all-round performance in the department's annual Springfest, held Saturday night in the War Memorial Community Center.

More than 400 youths, representing six junior teen clubs sponsored by the department, attended the event.

Wilfred O'Rourke, chairman of the Daly City Recreation Commission, presented the trophy to Martine Jubeault, who represented the Imperials.

Runnerup in the competition was the Majestics Club, last year's winner.

In other competition, Leslie Herliksen was crowned queen and Mike Rege was crowned king of the Springfest by Claudia Smith, Miss Daly City. The junior teen royalty are members of the Telstars Club.

Runnersup were Alena Moura and Barry Perrone of the Casualiers.

In winning the trophy, the Imperials scored highly in the decorations and ticket sales contests. The champs sold more vtickets than the number of members in the club.

In the decorations competition, the Imperials scored 59 out of a possible 60 points.

Teresa Harlarm and Lance DeRoo of the Know Names and Judy Santiago and Herman Scholtz of the Majestics were the winners of the slow and fa twist contests.

Bill Keffury, KYA disc jockey, acted as master of ceremonies for the program.

CSF Unit to Visit Campus

By LANETTE HOWARD
Westmoor Correspondent

Journeying to the University of California at Davis tomorrow will be members of Westmoor High School's branch of the California Scholarship Federation.

Accompanied by advisors Evelyn Slater and Margaret Riggs, the group will be greeted by student guides upon arrival at the campus.

The guides will lead them on a tour of the school, interrupted by lunch at the Memorial Union Dining Commons.

The students will return to Westmoor at 4 p.m.

The University of California is carrying on a program to interest students in all of the UC campuses in an attempt to relieve crowding at Berkeley in the fall.

Terra Nova Topics

SENIOR activities are approaching rapidly and the planning and excitement are at a peak. In the weeks to come, seniors will go to the Senior Ball, an all-day picnic at Turtlerock Ranch, an awards assembly, the Senior Tea, graduation exercises—all followed by the all-night party.

Plans for the graduation night exercises are a little bit hectic this year since there are now two sets of bleachers, whereas last year there was only one, so a new seating arrangement must be decided upon.

The major speakers for the evening have been chosen: Kathy Drake will be valedictorian, Sandy Shade will be salutatorian, and George Mason, senior class president, the class speaker. The marvelous number of six tickets will be allotted to each senior for seats at graduation.

IN THE MEANTIME, seniors are most concerned with the Senior Ball to be held Friday, May 22. The girls are busy getting their formals and making plans for the evening and the boys are busy scraping up enough money for those plans.

Speaking of money, the seniors, already the richest class in the district, just grossed another $66 from the senior car wash. The Terra Nova Executive Board donated $25 to the school to be used as a scholarship and the seniors are thinking of doing the same thing.

Seniors already have decided to donate a sign to the school and because of their surplus, tickets to the Senior Ball will cost only $2.50 and tickets to the all-day picnic for a steak dinner will only cost $1.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

EVERYTIME we open the food sections of various publications, we find new and different recipes for entrees. It seems the test kitchens are always busy with hamburger, chicken and chops. The results are so attractive that we are always eager to try them.

Or a beautiful dessert will be pictured in all its delightful, delicious (and fattening) splendor. We take one look and decide to forget counting calories and to give the recipe a whirl.

The foods that are not so often featured are the vegetables. It seems to me that we all can use some new ideas in preparing and presenting vegetables to our family. Fortunately, my friend, Mrs. Ceil Collin of 1674 32nd Avenue, San Francisco, is the world's busiest recipe collector and the world's most generous person with her recipe collection. So we will start off with some of her ideas for fancy vegetables.

ZUCHINNI CASSEROLE

2 lbs. sliced, cooked zucchini
2 eggs well beaten
½ cup bread crumbs
¼ cup oil
salt and pepper
grated cheese.

Mash the zucchini and mix with the well-beaten eggs. Fold in the bread crumbs and oil. Mix well. Rub casserole with garlic and then grease well. Put mixture in casserole and sprinkle with grated cheese. Bake in 350-degree oven for one hour.

BAKED CAULIFLOWER

Cover raw cauliflower flowerettes with sliced American cheese, in greased casserole. Dot with butter and pour a small can of tomato sauce over all.

Bake in covered casserole at 375-degrees for 20 minutes or until cauliflower reaches the degree of tenderness you like.

MINT GLAZED CARROTS

2 cups cooked carrots, cut in strips
¼ cup butter
¼ cup sugar
1 tablespoon mint jelly

Add all ingredients to the cooked carrots and simmer in a saucepan until the carrots are glazed. Serves four.

A VEGETABLE that I like very much and have a hard time selling to my family is spinach. As a result I don't serve it as much as I would like. Recently I tried baking it with cheese and wonder of wonders, everyone enjoyed it. It's very simple.

BAKED SPINACH

1 pkg. frozen spinach
½ cup diced processed cheese butter
salt and pepper

Place unthawed spinach in a buttered, covered, casserole. Bake at 350 degrees till spinach is cooked enough for you to stir in cheese. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Dot with butter and bake till cheese is melted. Delicious.

LAST BUT by no means least, a wonderful recipe for sweet and sour cabbage. This delicious German dish really adds color and flavor to a meal. This particular recipe has been a favorite in the family of Mrs. Adam Schaefer of 1434 34th Avenue, San Francisco, for many years. Mrs. Schaefer's father-in-law brought the recipe from Germany and I know from happy experience just how good it is.

SWEET AND SOUR CABBAGE

1 large head red cabbage
1 large minced onion
1 unpeeled apple, cored and chunked
¼ cup cider vinegar
¼ cup red wine
¼ cup brown sugar
2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon bacon fat
½ teaspoon caraway seed
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 bay leaf
10 whole allspice in bag.

Chop up cabbage and add rest of ingredients. Cook one hour. Thicken with flour if necessary.

Note: you sew the allspice in a small square of cloth so they can add their seasoning to the dish and then be easily removed.

Zone Plan Needs Long, Hard Look

A NEW BASIC zoning ordinance for Daly City is now pending before the Planning Commission and a public hearing has been set for May 26.

The ordinance is designed to give the second largest city in San Mateo County modern guidelines for its future development.

Before that step is taken, however, The Post strongly urges the Commission, and subsequently the City Council, to take a long, hard look at the ordinance — particularly concerning the ratio of open space to apartment buildings.

Daly City's present ordinance governing apartments permits construction on 80 per cent of a lot. This provision, it seems to us, was adequate when the city consisted primarily of homes and small businesses.

Times have changed, though!

With San Francisco's burgeoning population and its subsequent spillover into Daly City, apartment construction has suddenly become big business. Developers have found that it is much more profitable to satisfy the needs of transient apartment dwellers than to build single family homes.

THE DANGER here lies not in the apartment buildings themselves, but in the type of apartment building that will result from permitting what we feel is excessive lot coverage.

You can be assured that a developer will be tempted to take full advantage of the maximum area permitted to cram in as many apartments as he can. Consequently, the land remaining for parking, landscaping, and beautification would be minimal.

One need only to look to the neighboring unincorporated community of Colma or to take a drive along the Bayshore Freeway to see what's in Daly City's future if the 80 per cent formula is retained. The large painted boxes with windows and doors may be quite habitable from an inside view but are an abomination as roadside scenery.

On the other hand, one need only travel through some of the other cities in the county to see the opposite—the result of smaller lot coverage.

Developers have a smaller area to build upon in these cities, in some cases as little as 50 per cent of the lot. Consequently, they build fewer apartment units. To realize a profit, they must make the apartment houses more attractive to be able to justify higher rents. Then they must keep their tenants by keeping the apartments attractive through appropriate maintenance.

Land values of the surrounding neighborhoods are enhanced by the presence of these buildings, which effectively utilize their space.

Box-like apartments may look all right at first, but as the new paint begins to chip and the driveway becomes littered, the value of the apartment house goes down and drags the character of the neighborhood along with it.

An apartment slum is born.

NOW IS the time to act. We cannot expect the developers to legislate against themselves. It is up to the Planning Commission and the City Council to set down laws that will prevent the conception of prospective slums.

In the present draft of the new ordinance, the permissible area for construction is cut down to 75 per cent—only five per cent lower than the present maximum.

Looking at the experiences of other cities in the county it seems to us that a 60 to 65 per cent ratio would best serve the interests of the communiy and still be equitable to builders.

We laud the city for taking a forward step with the drafting of the new basic zoning ordinance. Let's implement this new governmental tool by making it sound enough to not only serve today's needs but also the needs of Daly City 10, 20 or 30 years hence.

Stars Were Speechless

Barbara Bladen

A CONTINGENT of Hollywood personalities attended the ground breaking ceremonies of the Circle Star Theater on Industrial Road, San Carlos, Thursday afternoon as civic and county leaders were given a taste of what to expect from theatrical producers Sammy Lewis and Danny Dare when the theatre opens on September 1.

Michael Rennie and Reginald Denny, who will star in the opening production of "My Fair Lady" shared the platform with James Shigeta, Eileen Christie, Joe E. Brown, James Dunn and Helen Fungai, "Miss Nisei."

County Manager E. R. Stallings as master of ceremonies introduced the dignitaries and county officials who pledged their support of the more than $2-million enterprise.

T. Louis Chess, representing the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors; Mayor Thomas M. Jenkins of San Carlos; Redwood City Vice Mayor William H. Royer; George P. Seeley, San Carlos chief of police; William L. Faulstich, Redwood City chief of police; former San Carlos Mayor Edward Burton; Hugh Wayne, San Mateo mayor; Don Risso, San Bruno mayor and Captain Gene Stewart of Sheriff Earl Whitmore's office were seated on the wooden stage before an invitational crowd of nearly 200 Peninsulans.

THE CAMERAS clicked, the television photographers closed in and the inevitable happened: the stars were at a loss for words but emphasized how "beautiful and wonderful" the new theatre would be and the county officials made jokes at the microphone.

Investors in the local enterprise include Debbie Reynolds, Nat King Cole, Steve Allen, Johnny Mercer, Juliet Prowse, Gisele Mackenzie, Glenn Wallichs and other show business notables.

In addition to the theatre, the site development will include a restaurant, parking facilities for 1,000 cars and additions of a motel and gas station that are budgeted at another $1-million.

Once the speeches were over, guests and visitors, press and photographers were served refreshments from two tents adjacent to the construction trailer as bulldozers grated into the soil nearby.

Second Miss Daly City of 1962

SUSAN THORNE, a Westmoor graduate, became Miss Daly City in November of 1962 to finish out the reign of Nancy Angelot after Nancy married. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron F. Thorne of 16 Oakmont Drive, she is presently employed by the artchitectural firm of Stone, Mareuccini and Patterson in San Francisco as a receptionist.

Preliminaries for the queen contest will be held at the Westmoor Little Theater May 22. The finals will be held at the South San Francisco Elks Club June 10. Tickets to the event may be purchased at the Chamber of Commerce office at 6454 Mission Street or at the office of The Post at 30 Park Plaza Drive, Daly City.

North County Notebook

The Battle of Fort Jefferson

Ron Bates

UNLIKE THE ending of a good many cow-Indian movies of our youth, the U. S. cavalry (in this case enough influential people and educators) did not gallop to the rescue of a beleaguered North County unification plan last week.

As a result, Fort Jefferson High may be torn asunder.

The epic drama, which has been in the making for nigh onto two years now, was almost ended last week when the elementary boards of Jefferson, Laguna Salada, Brisbane and Bayshore and the Jefferson High School Board met in augmented session with the County Committee on School Reorganization at Westmoor High School.

All that was needed was a repeat performance of a tentative vote that was taken earlier in the proceedings. But it didn't come.

Even late reinforcements, like Pacifica Mayor Fred Ballew and Councilwoman Grace McCarthy, the Jefferson teachers' union and County School Supt. James Tormey, were not enough to sway the augmented committee members from shooting down the proposal t unify within the boundaries of the high school district.

When the final vote was taken the elementary boards, as expected, voted against the plan. And the high school, as expected, voted for the plan.

Not expected was a split down the middle of the county committee. With one member absent, the committee split 4-4.

LIKE A MOVIE, the unification drama seemed to have a plot. And like a movie, it had its high points and its boredom.

It had its stars — County Committee Chairman Paul Bradley and Vice Chairman Ernie Nelson, Tom Noonan of Jefferson Elementary, Al Rigler of Brisbane, Bob Hale of Laguna Salada, and Jim Cooper and Elio Fontana of Jefferson High.

Supporting actors included consultant Dr. Roger Kent, Helen Kerwin and William Platt. Kent eased himself out of the picture by accepting a superintendent post. Mrs. Kerwin and Platt (still in the cowboy-Indian vein) were shot out of the saddle midway through the picture by school board trustees.

The committee was cut down late last year from 11 to nine members and the two supporting actors were replaced by persons more favorably inclined to small district unification.

It is interesting to note that in last week's vote, original members of the county committee still felt the original plan was the best one and did not change their vote.

The battle has not ended, though.

WE READ someplace that while 20th Century Fox was making "Cleopatra," an independent production company completed another movie on the queen of the Nile. The Fox Company bought it, and dumped it and all the work put into it went for naught.

The same thing may happen here. In this regard the Unruh Bill will be "Cleopatra" (it has to be considering that Big Daddy always does things in a big way) and the local hassle is the production that may fall by the wayside.

Unruh's plan is to unify all the districts by high schools.

If Unruh's Bill doesn't knock out the county committee's plan, for San Mateo County, then the plan will go before voters. They pay the admission price and if it doesn't sound like a good show, it just may flop.

It's certain that there will be opposition to the plan from several quarters.

If Laguna unifies on its own as three of the elementary boards recommend, a tax raise, so it was stated at last week's meeting, would be in the offing. Pacificans, who already are carrying a heavy load, won't be too happy about that. This was Ballew's contention at the public hearing.

The high school board members aren't too happy now about breaking up the district either and some of the members may take leadership roles in a battle to defeat the plan.

Then again, when the thing goes to the polls we may see that long overdue cavalry appear. All in all, we're anxious to see how it all turns out.

"THE FUNNIES" is being acclaimed in all parts of the country. It is a store house of carefully gathered information about the unique American institution known far and wide as the comic strips.

For example 200-million people in some 60 countries are avid followers of American comic strips.

Some strips, such as Blondie, appear in 1,200 papers and may be read as many as 7 billion times in a single year.

"The Funnies" was edited by a free lance writer and a research professor who found themselves wondering about the effect of the comic strips on American culture.

TO FIND an answer, they ask sociologists, writers, and other observers of the American scene to analyze the comic strips and write their reactions.

As a result, these trained persons take the readers inside the world of the funnies where they meet Blondie, Li'l Abner, Smilin' Jack and hundreds of others face to face.

Here the reader makes friends with the creators of the comic strips and learns something of their thoughts and their approach to life.

There are seven sections in the book. Each contains at least one essay.

All of the essays are written in clear and lucid sentences.

Each is complete in itself, yet adds to the over-all value of the entire work.

Pacific Parade

Land (Gasp, Wheeze) Ho!

Don Miller

THE BROCHURE painted an intriguing weekend of travel—"a unique rail and boat excursion to the Channel Islands off the Southern California coast."

Now that, we mused, was right up our nautical boulevard.

"These islands," said the brochure, "becauause of their outstanding scenic beauty, have been preserved as a national monument. Their springtime abundance of wild flowers makes them especially desirable to visit during this time of the year."

That does it, we decided, and off we went with 38 other adventuresome souls who collectively vowed "never again" halfway through the proceedings, but backtracked later to boast "great trip" when we were all nice and warm and dry again on the mainland.

It turned out to be a trip one doesn't forget very easily for it featured in howling good form, some of the stormiest seas seen in those waters in the past three years—seas that ran angry and sullen under ominous gray skies.

BUT BEFORE we get into the sea saga, a bit of background is in order.

The Channel Islands lie 21 miles offshore from Santa Barbara (which, incidentally, is what all Southern California should be like) and about 65 miles north of Catalina Island.

The islands are four—Anacapa, which lies southeast of Santa Barbara and has the appearance of a scorpion; Santa Cruz, privately owned and used largely for riasing cattle and sheep (they're ferried to the mainland when ready for slaughter); Santa Rosa and San Miguel, which long has been used as an aircraft bombing target.

They providentially must have declared a cease fire when our excursion boat rocked into view.

Each island has a personality all of its own but all have one trait in common—they truly represent that little spot of heaven away from it all.

Usually, after a rainy winter, the islands are covered with tall grass that waves in the afternoon breeze like restless bullrushes in a swamp. From offshore, you see large patches poppies, the blue of lupine and the yellow of mustard.

Not a human can be seen. There are no freeways, no television aerials—a total absence of the signposts of civilization.

The natives on the mainland say that as the spring rains cease and the season turns to summer and drought, the islands' greenery becomes golden, the grass withers and dies, a spate of hardy plants along the shorelines turns brown and the islands lose their smile and instead become craggy and cranky. Like a furious sea.

WHICH BRINGS us back to our epic ocean voyage—a salt-spray sortie our tour compatriots insisted could not fail to be ranked alongside the feats of the mariners of yore.

It all began quietly enough in the relatively unhurried harbor of Port Hueneme, 40 miles south of Santa Barbara. Hueneme is an Indian name. The port is the home of the Seabees, the Navy non-union gang of carpenters, electricians, plumbers, etc.

Wave action within the snug confines of Port Hueneme was deceptively placid and it appeared that our voyage, even though the heavens were glowering, would be relatively calm.

Outside the breakwall, things picked up on the motion front and our sturdy 45-foot charter craft began to groan. Still, the trip wasn't what you could call rough.

A little while later, however, rough was a mild term. Turbulent then became the word of the day. For the wind began to rise and the ocean right along with it. And it wasn't long before we had a cantankerous sea throwing its spume into our faces.

At this point, the thing to do was hang on—to anything—even to the nice, white-faced little old lady next to you who by this time was mentally rereading the part of the brochure that said "unique . . . boat excursion."

As the boat's motion began more and more to resemble someone afflicted with St. Vitus' dance, a number of the greener-faced passengers quietly—but determinedly—headed for the rail.

Some of these voyageurs had taken pills for sea sickness before we embarked but apparently the pills were good only for rough going on Lake Merced. They were no match for the sullen Pacific.

After about 90 minutes of this roller-coaster business, our indomitable ship hove to in the lee of Anacapa Island and 39 bedraggled passengers glared suspiciously at the great scorpion.

At the urging of the crew, however, almost all of the 39 went ashore via a small outboard that carried eight persons on each trip and somehow made it to the island 40 feet away with what must have been an all-time minimum of freeboard—or for you landlubbers, that margin between top of waves and top of side of boat.

ONCE ON SHORE, general collapse was in order and if ever a guided tour looked shipwrecked, this was one.

Nonetheless, revival eventually came, a picnic lunch was somehow consumed, we returned to the mother ship and arrived back on the mainland under—we found out later—the watchful eye of Coast Guardsmen who had cruised nearby in a crash boat on the last leg of our trip.

Our "unique" excursion may not exactly have been unique but it taught us one lesson: read between the lines of those tour brochures. You'll probably find the real plot to the whole thing right there.

We're Ruled by Those Habits

George Whitesell

NEARLY EVERY person is aware of his bad habits and probably is secretly ashamed of them, though often not sufficiently ashamed to try to change them.

Fewer people are actively aware of their good habits, though occasionally we meet people who are stuffy about them.

But all of us are ruled by numerous habits that are not classifiable as good or bad and, mostly, we are happily unaware of them.

More or less regular habits control most of us from the minute the alarm clock sounds its rude clamor in the morning until a final yawn and arm stretch before hitting the sack at night.

This makes what we will do much more easily redicatable than we think.

A wife, for example, can accurately forecast what her husband will do during most of the time he spends at home.

In a typical case she knows that he spends precisely four minutes in the shower, throws the discarded towel in exactly the same corner, drinks precisely the same amount of coffee for breakfast, leaves the uncapped toothpaste tube in exactly the same place, and will give her a husbandly peck on the cheek—at a precise spot southwest of the nose—before he goes to work.

Barring accidents and emergencies, he will arrive home in the evening on almost split-second schedule, drape his coat over the same chair, bestow another husbandly peck, and then reach in the refrigerator where he expects to find a can of beer, a Martini pitcher, or whatever other refresher he favors, on exactly the same shelf.

THE HUSBAND can do his own forecasting. He knows that when he greets his wife in the morning she will have the same lock of hair askew at the same angle, that she will cheat on a quick half-cup of coffee before he gets to the table, that she will serve the same kind of jelly or marmalade—the kind she likes and will smuggle a tidbit to the dog—which he is not allowed to do.

He knows she will say exactly the same thing about leaving the cap off the toothpaste that she has always said.

He knows that when he comes home in the evening she will be standing in the same spot in the kitchen, wearing the same apron, holding the same potholder, and looking hopeful.

He doesn't know she is looking hopeful because she still thinks he'll change and, someday, bring home candy or flowers.

THIS SORT of thing is not confined to home life.

A teacher knows just which pupil will start raising a rumpus—and when. The kids know just how far they can go without the teacher blowing her cork.

The bookkeeper knows which salesman's expense account will be loaded and the bartender on the corner knows what it is loaded with.

The customers know the same waitress always slops the coffee into the saucer. The waitress knows the same customers invariably try to chisel a "warm-up."

The painter knows that after he has shown the lady every color in the sample book she will have the kitchen painted the same color it is now. She knows when the painter says he'll come Monday he'll be there on Wednesday.

Everybody knows that when the TV station pauses for "station identification" it means at least three commercials.

That mailman knows which dogs on his route will always bark at him. The dogs know which mailmen are nervous.

The boss knows which employes abuse the coffee break. The employes know that the boss knows, but they can't help lingering.

THE SALESGIRL knows the lady takes a size 16. The lady knows it, too. They both know she'll insist on trying a 14 anyway.

The boyfriend knows the girlfriend won't be ready for the date on time. She knows he'll be sore, but it doesn't hurry her.

And where there is smoke there is not necessarily fire. It's more likely someone who has quit smoking and is sneaking a quick puff.

But the tyranny of habit has its values. Think how awful it would be if we had to think about everything we do.

RAY ANTHONY BERESON, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bereson, of 458 Woodrow Street, Daly City, was sworn into the U. S. Marine Corps recently by Captain H. E. Smith at the Recruiting Station in San Francisco. He is currently undergoing recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego.

Coast Reaches Fund Goal

We're really proud of our neighbors for coming through in such a big way," beamed Pacifica Co-Chairmen Robert and Mary Uhrig, in announcing that Pacifica is first to reach its goal in the American Cancer Society's annual April Crusade.

The San Mateo County branch of the ACS had asked Pacificans to contribute $1,350 toward the county-wide total of $109,000 for research, health education and patients' services.

Most recent count of funds contributed from a number of sources showed $1,544.50 in the special American Cancer Society account. Still to be heard from were a number of householders on the Coastside who were not home when volunteers visited their homes, officials said.

For the show, Penney's will erect a red beach house and a 30-foot dock. The setting was specially designed and created for the show.

Joanne Vilardi, head swim wear buyer for the Penney Company, will be the commentator.

Special features of Penney's 1964 collection will be modified bikinis in an array of prints and solids. A new group of suits will feature shortie pleated skirts on two-piece swimsuits.

According to Penney officials, one of the biggest splashes in fashion news this summer will be made by the company's "double exposure" swimsuits — three-piece separates to interchange and suit fashion whims.

The swimsuits will be worn by House of Charm models. Adeline Bake Shop will furnish refreshments and Simpsons' Caterers will serve.

After each show, Olive Vallone of the Penney staff will be on hand to assist shoppers in the store's swimsuit department.

Floor Care Line to Be Introduced

The J. C. Penney Company will introduce its own brand of floor care appliances June 1, Don Davis, manager of Penney's Westlake store has announced.

The line will be named "Penncrest" and will include tank, canister and upright cleaners hand vacuums combination floor polisher and rug shampoo applicators and lightweight vacuum cleaners.

The line is manufactured to Penney's specifications by a well-known American floor care company.

The appliances will carry a one-year warranty on repairs and replacement of parts, according to Davis.

The equipment will range in price from $29.88 for a six-piece tank vacuum to $54.50 for a de luxe upright vacuum that beats, sweeps and cleans in one synchronized operation.

Davis said the line will come in shades of green, brown, blue and white. Construction will be all-steel.

The appliances will feature such features as a "double stretch" hose, a 10-second bag change and an all-round furniture guard.

The new floor care line is the latest in a series of hard lines that the national chain has introduced under its own label since October of 1962.

WATCH TAKEN

Stewart Barker of 969 Higate Drive, Daly City, reported to police last week that his gold watch, valued at $75, had been stolen.

Diploma From Vale Awarded

Edmund B. Schultz, a claim representative for the State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company office at 2801 Geneva Avenue, Daly City, has received a diploma from Vale Technical Institute at Blairsville, Pa.

At the institute, he took a three weeks advanced training course in auto damage estimating and repair techniques.

'Thank You' Sale Planned

The Pacific Chamber of Commerce, in co-operation with merchants, will sponsor a city wide "thank you" sale today through Saturday.

The purpose of the sale is to thank Pacifica consumers for hometown purchases over the past year, according to Mario Torrigino, president of the chamber.

COUNTY REQUEST

S.S.F. Action on Hickey Is Asked

County supervisors, eager to get going on the extension of Hickey Boulevard, passed a formal resolution last week, asking South San Francisco to designate its portion of the route a county road.

County Engineer Don S. Wilson asked the board for the action. He said if South San Francisco makes the designation his office can get started on acquiring the right of way, which will mean the removal of seven Winston Manor homes.

Wilson said he hoped that actual work on linking up the cross-county road from South San Francisco to Pacifica can be started next year.

County officials have agreed that the county will carry most of the cost of developing the portion of the road that will be within the city limits of South San Francisco. Daly City and the developers of the Serramonte subdivision are to share the cost of extending the route through to Pacifica.

South San Francisco officials have stated that they recognize the area-wide importance of the cross-county road but are unwilling to have the city participate in its construction.

They favor instead the extension of Chestnut Avenue to the Westborough subdivision, which would provide a connection to the coast by the way of Westborough Boulevard and Sharp Park Road.

At the heart of the problem is the rivalry between two planned shopping centers.

One, to be located at the intersection of the Hickey Boulevard extension and Junipero Serra Freeway, will be in Daly City.

South San Francisco officials prefer to develop Chestnut Avenue extension because it will lead to the shopping center in Westborough, which is in South San Francisco.

Burglaries in D.C. Reported

Two burglaries were reported to Daly City police Friday.

Thieves took $16 in change from a cash register at the Standard Service Station at 2089 Junipero Serra Boulevard. They entered the building through a window on the south side, police said.

At the Hilltop Cafe at 6266 Mission Street, burglars stole an undetermined amount of change and cigarettes from a vending machine. Police said the thieves pried open a rear door.

VANDALISM REPORTED

Vandals fired a BB through a window of Williams Ford Company at 6100 Mission Street, Daly City police reported last week.

Student Awards To Be Presented

Eight graduating Daly City High School seniors will be honored next Wednesday at the Annual Outstanding Students Awards Night sponsored by the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce.

The dinner will be held at the Friar Room of Serra Bowl.

According to chairman Elio Fontana, the annual dinner is designed to "put the spotlight" on the maority of students who, he said, are earnest and sincere in their academic studies.

Working on the committee with Fontana, who is chairman of the board of trustees of the Jefferson High School District, has been high school superintendent of schools Edward Morgan, and Parke Harris, manager of the First Western Bank. Here is a brief biography of the students:

Oddette Delessio, vocational arts winner, lives at 69 Clarinda Avenue. She plans to attend City College of San Francisco or San Francisco State for secretarial training.

Jennifer Jacobsen, math and science winner, is valedictorian of the Jefferson graduating class with a grade point average of 3.9. She won the chemistry award as a junior and attended the National Science Foundation Summer program at U.C.L.A. She was a Hertz Scholarship semi-finalist and was named the best Republican nual model senate.

Evelyn Morabe, liberal arts winner, was Girls State Representative and named the best Democratic Senator at the annual Model Senate. She was a Lion's Club speaker semi-finalist and a finalist in the California State Scholarship competition. She plans to study social studies at the University of California.

In the Red Again

The Laguna Salada School District's determined effort to keep its cafeteria program in the black ran into vacation and sickness woes in March, the district's board of trustees was told.

As a result, the program dipped once again into the red after two months in a row on the plus side of the ledger.

A report on the program said that although no income was received during Easter vacation, salaries for cafeteria personnel remained in effect.

In addition, sick leaves granted in March required about $484 in extra salaries for substitutes, the report said.

The net effect was a loss of $919 for the month, compared to a gain of $1,184 for February and a $2,130 gain for January.

Last year, trustees asked a citizens' committee to recommend ways of increasing student participation in school cafeteria programs.

The committee's recomendations were adopted and shortly after, the district cafeteria program began to show more gain than loss.

Honor Concert To Be Offered

The Jefferson Elementary School District Honor Glee Club will present its annual honor concert Thursday evening, May 28, in Benamin Franklin School.

The group received a "superior" rating at the California Music Educators Association Choral Festival for San Francisco, San Mateo and Santa Clara Counties. Lauren Abernethy is the director.

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

Many people do not know that a person can lose all of his teeth—even though they are not decayed.

Gum disease can cause loss of all teeth, by leading to destruction of the bony sockets and the periodontal membranes that teeth need for support.

Gum disease is often the result of neglect that allows accumulation of tartar on teeth; if not removed, these accumulations start the processes that result in disease.

Regular checkups give the dentist an opportunity to guard against gum disease by cleaning and scaling the teeth. Even if the gum disease has started, your dentist, if given a chance, is usually able to prevent serious trouble.

In Northern Calif. Dr. Campbell limits his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth as even the beautiful modern dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

BETTER BUSINESS

Slick Racket Is Described

By LORENE BEASLEY
Editor, Better Business Bureau "Barometer"

ONE OF the slickests but "not necessarily illegal, just reprehensible" rackets, is the multi-million dollar aluminum siding gyp that yearly puts hundreds of Californians in debt.

The promoters of this nationwide scheme are usually itinerants who come into a neighborhood seeking model homes via the boiler room telephone pitchman.

Prospects are often promised as much as $300 just to listen to a representative.

High pressure salesmen replace the boiler room team as the lists of prospects for siding jobs are sold to sales organizations.

A few years ago a dazzling sales staff of 40 hand-picked, alluring young ladies were apprehended just as they were preparing to canvass the San Francisco area.

Homes that obviously need residing are selected for the canvass. The owner of such a home is led to believe that he is dealing with a large, national organization.

Salesmen often promise $50 to $100 commission for every sale made and a bonus for every new customer recommended. This is known as the "model home" or referral selling pitch.

FROM THE numerous complaints the Better Business Bureau receives, the resistant prospest most offten receives excusses and not cash for listening.

The houseowner is very often unaware that the order he signed for the aluminum siding job is in reality a mortgage.

A few years ago, Santa Clara County householders were conned into signing $1 advertising contracts for house siding.

The signatures of the signers of the contracts were used to forge new contracts for $500 or more.

An unsuspecting San Francisco credit firm turned over around $104,000 of contracts to a smooth talking team.

A contractor installs the siding. He acts strictly on the order he has received from the sales firm. The contractor has no responsibility concerning the job as he had no part in the sales pitch or promises.

A few weeks after the job is completed, the houseowner receives a payment book in the mail from a financial institution.

He learns that the "papers" have been sold at discount rates to a finance organization. Many of the finance organizations are based out of state and do not come under regulations of the California corporations commissioner.

The victim finds out that the authorization paper, which he had been told was a mere formality, was in reality a binding instrument and regardless of promised commissions, he must met ALL the payments he had signed to pay.

Everything up until now has been a sign-now-pay later deal. oo late, the victim of such rackets finds he has a debt often of $3,000 to $5,000 on which he must pay about 18 per cent interest.

It has been estimated that interest on some loans has added up to 50 per cent of the cost.

THE BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU warns the houseowner to be wary of strangers offering specially reduced prices to reside his home or do work for nothing if his home can be used as a demonstration home.

Most remodeling firms are legitimate and do not employ promotion schemes. Some entirely reputable contractors do offer to pay homeowners a nominal sum of money for each sales lead ultimately sold.

But, unlike the model home promoter, the legitimate contractor does NOT use possible payments as part of the sales inducement, nor does he imply that such payments will be large in number.

The Bureau emphasizes that aluminum siding is a worthwhile product and legitimate concerns sell and install it at a fair price.

Resident Wins College Post

John Travinsky of 735 Midway Avenue, Daly City, was elected sophomore representative for the Legislature of the Associated Students of San Francisco State College last week.

The Legislature is the major law-making body of student government on the Lake Merced campus. The presidential post was won by Connel F. Persico, 20, political science major from San Francisco. Aditja Mukerji of Patna, India, will serve as president.

Travinsky is a history major.

Industrial Park Ground Broken in SSF

The first shovel of earth in the largest industrial park in the San Francisco Bay Area, the $50 million Cabot, Cabot & Forbes Industrial Park in South San Francisco, was turned last week when work began on the first of the three projects that have been announced in the six months since CC&F acquired the property from Bethlehem Steel Company.

Mrs. Patrick Ahern, wife of the mayor of South San Francisco, will wield the shovel on Eccles Avenue, at the exact corner of the new major appliance distribution center of the Graybar Electric Company.

Looking on were representatives of F. W. Woolworth and William Volker Company, who are soon to start construction on their own plants in the new park.

Officials of the city of South San Francisco and the County of San Mateo also were present.

The South San Francisco park is the twenty-second industrial park to be developed by Cabot, Cabot & Forbes, and their second in the West.

A similar project is under at Laguna Niguel in Orange County, Calif., and a third will begin soon in Phoenix, Ariz.

Following the ceremony at 11 a.m., CC&F was host to a luncheon at the California Golf Club.

RECORDS STOLEN

Diana Adami of 68 Castlemont Avenue, Daly City, reported to police last week that thieves had stolen a number of records and albums from her residence.

A Toast to Success

sirloin steak Tender, well-aged, Mayfair's Blue Ribbon Steer Beef ..... lb. 79¢

✻ SO WHY DID WE SPELL "BEEF" WITH THREE E'S?

The extra "E" stands for the EXCELLENCE of Mayfair's Blue Ribbon Steer Beef and we thought it would be a cute way of emphasizing this point. We maintain this excellence by the care with which our trained buyers select top quality beef consistently, all from White-Faced young Hereford Steers meeting Mayfair's rigid specifications. It's an excellence you can prove to yourself, whenever you serve a cut of this fine beef . . . because the real proof is in your eating enjoyment!

THIS LASAGNE Americana with its wealth of delivered-fresh-daily cottage cheese and come-back-for-more flavor is designed to feed the multitude at fund-raising events.

Committeewomen Use Their Noodles

Since economy is the keynote, women with experience in meal-service for fund-raising events have learned to use their noodles, spaghetti and macaroni to turn out inexpensive flavorsome main dishes. They avidly collect new quantity-feeding recipes like this Lasagne Americana with its protein-rich bounty of low-cost cottage cheese . . . that delivered-fresh-daily pride of California dairymen. Recipe makes 24 servings.

1½ cups chopped onions
4 pounds lean ground beef
2½ tablespoons salad oil
3 cans (1 pound, 12 ounces each) tomatoes
2 cans (10½ ounces each) tomato puree
2 tablespoons salt
1 tablespoon crushed basil
½ teaspoon pepper
1-3 cup salt
12 quarts (3 gallons) boiling water
3 pounds wide egg noodles
2 pounds (1 quart) creamed cottage cheese
½ pound cheddar cheese, sliced

Saute onion and beef in heated oil. Drain off excess fat. Add tomatoes, puree, salt, basil and pepper. Simmer, uncovered 1 hour, stirring occasionally. Add the 1-3 cup salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add noodles so that water continues to boil. Cook, uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Arrange half of the cooked noodles in each of two 7¼ x 11¾ x 2¼ inch or equivalent size baking pans. Layer each with sauce and cottage cheese. Repeat with remaining noodles, sauce and cottage cheese. Top with cheddar cheese cut into triangles. Bake in moderate, 375 degree, oven 15 to 20 minutes or until bubbling and cheese is melted. Cut each pan of Lasagne into 12 servings.

Noodles Are Interesting With Meat

MATCHLESS BEAUTY and ambrosial taste is offered in this Fruit Salad Pie. Assorted fruits combine with dairy sour cream and whipping cream for chilling in a baked pie crust.

A Dessert From The Land of Nog

Cows of our area continue to give stellar performances as they continue to provide us with riches galore for the making of glamour desserts. We celebrate June Dairy Month in token of our appreciation to bossy for keeping so busy and the California producers and distributors of dairy products for making them instantly available to us at all times.

Today's milky way has reached almost astonomical proportions as cows in our state gave forth with an average of 1,330 pounds of milk . . . far in excess of national average of 7,370 pounds per cow. These bountiful bovines keep production well ahead of population trends; their managers keeping this largesse always within arm's reach at local supermarkets and on doorsteps.

Fruit Salad Pie
De Luxe Dessert

Here dairy sour cream and whipping cream enfold fruits. We took a picture of our pie indicative of how highly we regard this dessert for helping celebrate June Dairy Month.

- 1 9-inch pastry shell, baked
- ½ cup dairy sour cream
- ½ cup whipping cream
- 1-3 cup brown sugar (firmly packed)
- 1 11-ounce can Mandarin oranges, drained
- 1 13-ounce can pineapple chunks, drained
- 1 cup dark sweet cherries, drained
- ½ cup flaked coconut
- Toasted almonds

Bake pastry shell made from favorite mix or recipe. Combine well-chilled dairy sour cream and whipping cream in chilled mixing bowl adequate for whipping. Beat cream mixture to a thick consistency; fold in sugar after beating cream. Fold fruits and coconut into 1 cup of the cream mixture; pour into cooled baked pastry shell. Spread remaining cream mixture over pie. Chill in refrigerator at least 3 hours. Before serving, sprinkle with sliced toasted almonds.

Big Supply Of Peaches In Prospect

"There will be lots of peaches in 1964 and harvesting of early varieties will start about a week ahead of last year," Don Bones, chairman, California Fresh Peach Advisory Board, predicted at a recent forecast meeting held by the industry.

Springtime, a variety with an appropriate name to publicize its distinction as the first peach to come to market, was expected to arrive from the earliest producing districts about May 7. Just after Springtime comes the Mayflower peach. Other early varieties are Robin and Blazing Gold. These appear soon after mid-May.

Here is a brief description of the more prominent early varieties of peaches for eating fresh you will see on the market:

Springtime, the first peach of the season. White-fleshed, fairly firm, generally medium to small in size; well colored, with a pronounced tip, semi-clingstone. Flavor fair. Average starting date about May 7.

Mayflower, early, white-fleshed, clingstone, good color, good quality, but watery-soft when full ripe. Size medium or better for a very early variety. Will soften rapidly. Average starting date about May 9 or 10—just after Springtime.

Robin, white-fleshed, semi-clingstone, good to very high red blush. Flesh moderately firm, mild flavor. Good for dessert use. Average starting date about May 17.

Blazing Gold, yellow-fleshed, medium to fair size, oval shape, semi-freestone, fair to high blush, most attractive. Flesh moderately firm for an early peach, slightly fibrous. Quality fair to good. Slice for dessert use. Average beginning date about May 19.

'Evap' Milk Makes Good Souffle Dish

California's production of smooth cooking, always dependable evaporated milk stays high as our 17 "evap" plants scattered throughout the state work on this project. Quantities of evaporated milk goes into growing time, sleepytime formulas for babies; more and more of it is also finding its way into family meals in dishes like this well seasoned, high and light cheese souffle. Aged cheddar cheese is another key to the flavor success of this souffle. Recipe makes 6 to 8 servings.

- 1 tall can (1 2-3 cups) evaporated milk
- 5 tablespoons flour
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- 1-3 to ½ teaspoon dry mustard
- ¼ teaspoon Tabasco
- ½ teaspoon Ac'cent
- ½ pound aged cheddar cheese, grated
- 5 eggs, separated

Pour evaporated milk into top of double boiler. Add flour, salt, dry mustard, Tabasco and Ac'cent; beat with rotary beater until smooth. Place over boiling water and beat until slightly thickened, about 5 minutes. Slice or dice cheese into milk mixture and stir occasionally until cheese has melted, about 10 minutes. Beat until smooth. Remove from heat; add egg yolks, one at a time beating well after each addition.

Wash beater thoroughly and beat egg whites in an ungreased 2-quart casserole until very stiff, but not dry. Gradually fold in cheese mixture. Bake in a very slow, 300 degree, oven 1 hour. Serve immediately on warmed plates.

Individual Salad Bits

When is a salad not really a salad? Well, when vegetables or fruits are served like this: On individual salad plates arrange a fan of romaine lettuce leaves (or other greens), long strips of carrots and cucumbers; tiny whole tomatoes and radishes with tops left on. Leave room on each plate for a small dish (Chinese tea cups are perfect) of dairy sour cream seasoned to taste with garlic salt, chopped green onions and lemon juice. Let everyone dunk his own salad bits into dressing. Fun for the whole family. The same thing can be done with a variety of fruits, but in that case a fork is a good idea.

State Funds Applications Approved

The board of trustees of the Laguna Salada School District has approved applications for state funds for two building programs.

One program is a new school on a 17-acre site in Portola Highlands. It will have two kindergartens and 17 classrooms. Cost is estimated at $1,600,736.

The board has accepted an offer from Oddstad Homes to sell an ungraded site for the school to the district for $215,000.

The other program is a new school in the Fairmont Subdivision that will cost an estimated $1,276,740.

An offer from Henry Doelger Incorporated to sell a 14-acre site for the school for $380,000 was accepted by the board.

In other action, trustees were informed that one of the administration's summer proects will be a review, codification, reorganization and re-writing of district policies and administrative regulations.

3½% Pay Boost Asked on Coast

City Manager Karl A. Baldwin recommended at 3½ per cent across-the-board cost of living pay increase for all municipal employes when he met with members of the Pacifica Personnel Advisory Board last week.

His recommendation was far less than requsets submitted by city employes, which ranged from 5 to 10 per cent.

Baldwin also recommended that 18 new employes be hired, including the creation of deputy police and fire chief posts to establish a chain of command. He suggested that six new firemen and four police patrolmen be hired.

Police and firemen had asked that patrolmen and hosemen be given a 5 per cent salary increase and that police sergeants and fire captains be granted a 7.5 per cent salary increase. Police also asked for a 10 per cent salary increase when officers acquire an associate of art degree in police work in junior college.

Some members of the Park, Beach and Recreation Department asked a 10 per cent hazard pay bonus for tree climbing and additional pay for recreation employes in leadership activities.

Although employes urged that a health plan be extended to entire families in addition to municipal employes, Baldwin made no recommendation on this.

Most of the employe requests were submitted to the board without recommendation by the city manager.

In addition to most of th above, these included that employes be given a three week vacation after five years of employment instead of the present 10 years.

Baldwin estimated that his recommendations alone would add about 10 per cent, or between $23,000 and $24,000 to the current municipal budget.

Baldwin concurred in an employe recommendation that police and firemen be given time and a half for overtime work.

He made no recommendation, however, on a fire department request that hosemen be given a 56 hour week instead of their current 57.1 hour work week.

Firemen worked the shorter week before the closing of the Vallemar fire station.

Personnel Board members will meet each Thursday for the remainder of the month before submitting a recommendation to city councilmen.

Watchtower Conclave Is Set in May

Watchtower convention headquarters announced last week that 20 department heads and their assistants have been assigned to handle convention needs for the semiannual Bible seminar of Jehovah's Witnesses at the Scottish Rite Auditorium, May 29-31.

William Marks, presiding minister of the Daly City congregation, will head one of the key departments in the convention organization.

Reverend Marks is in charge of all Bible literature that will be distributed in connection with the assembly. Lawrence DeLorenzi, an associate minister with the Daly City group, is assisting in the equipment and trucking department.

Purpose of the three-day gathering according to Reverend Marks is to equip all of Jehovah's Witnesses to more skillfully perform their ministry. the program is designed to further Bible knowledge as well as provide advanced ministerial training.

Highlight of the convention will be the public Bible discourse by Arthur L. Borchardt, district supervisor of the Watchtower Society. His topic, "Facing Up to the Urgency of Our Times," will be delivered Sunday, May 31, at 3 p.m.
